Terms & Conditions

Our terms of service describe how we work together and includes the disclosures and conditions around us being engaged for your business. Note that our Fee Terms relating to our hourly rates are reviewed annually on 1 July and changes notified via email or published on our website. Any ad-hoc work requested will be invoiced prepaid based on the agreed scope, and payment of that invoice is net 7-days and must be paid prior to commencing. The cost of the provision of Xero software will be charged separately if applicable.

Scope & Fees - Ongoing work will be invoiced (monthly or annually depending on your plan) in advance and must be paid prior to work commencing. We reserve the right to stop work if you fail to make payment when and as it falls due. Any debts beyond 30 days (unless a prior payment arrangement has been entered into) will be referred to a debt collection agency and any costs associated in recovering such debts will be passed onto you. If you ask us to complete work that falls outside of the scope our agreements, we will confirm in writing a quote that you authorise us to complete the work and that it will be billed at an hourly rate or project rate, outside of our fixed fee agreements.

Subscription for the Use of Accounting Software (includes Xero, MYOB and QuickBooks) - We may take out the subscription for the use of accounting software on your behalf. If you choose to discontinue our services including the provision of software through us, we will facilitate the transfer of the software subscription to any nominated email address providing all accounts are paid up. If you choose not to continue with the accounting software subscription, then we will discontinue the subscription. Please be aware that many software companies include in their terms and conditions the right to access your data file for their use and information.

Legal Matters - We are engaged to establish the payroll systems based on the payroll information provided to us. We will implement and maintain the payroll based on this information. You agree that we are not engaged to interpret and apply the Fair Work provisions to this business. Please note that we do not do BAS lodgement but can check calculations. We do not give advice. The legal registered business owner is legally responsible for the documents lodged to the ATO. The responsibility for reviewing final reports and/or work rests with you. You will not be charged to correct errors which are clearly our fault, but revisions performed at your request may require discussion on any time incurred. Responsibility for the maintenance of business records rests with you, (the client/business owner); this includes security of those records and prevention against fraud. It is important to remember that you are personally responsible for the information contained in any statutory return and that you must retain all necessary supporting documentation to substantiate the transactions. Business records including primary source documents, are to be retained by you. It is the business owner's responsibility to maintain and verify that such records are accurate. Upon our request either during our engagement or following its termination, you must collect your property without delay which will be released to you once our accounts are paid. Should any of your property remain in our possession following our request to collect it, we will hold the property for three months before destroying it in accordance with the Australian Consumer Law and Fair- Trading Act 2012. APIWA reserves the right to cancel the contract at any time without reason. You agree to indemnify us for any loss, damage, liability and legal costs that may result from any claims arising from the provisions of the services. If there is a claim against us for loss, the loss will be proportionately reduced by the extent of your contribution to the loss. Further to this, we have a right of lien on records and business data, that is, we reserve the right to hold records and data against any outstanding debts. Note this will only apply to records and data that has been worked on but for which payment is outstanding.

Confidentiality & Privacy - Any information and all matters connected with and relating to your business and its performance are confidential and we shall not disclose them to any other person/entity unless authorised to do so in writing. Likewise, your privacy is very important to us. Accordingly, we have developed a Policy so you to understand how we collect, use, communicate and make use of personal information. APIWA is committed to providing quality services and this policy outlines our obligations to you in respect of how we manage your personal information.
